*R*ita Ora's red carpet glam was decidedly low-key for the 2017 European Music Awards on Sunday.

The British singer — who was the evening's host — stepped out donning a white bathrobe featuring a thigh-high slit. She skipped a blowout, instead just wearing a towel wrapped around her head.

Though her look was something usually reserved for home, the 26-year-old still piled on some glamorous accessories. Ora was dripping in $7.8 million dollars of Lorraine Schwartz diamonds thanks to her sparkling necklace and earrings, with extra bling courtesy her bedazzled heels.
