The annual list of 12 Jewelry Trends for 2015 aims to serve as a guideline for store purchases in the new year, highlighting pieces and materials trending now, based on the clothing, color, red carpet, and real-life influences at work in the market. Motifs from the 1960s–1970s are the fifth trend on the list. Here are five new options for retailers to consider stocking.

1960s–1970s motifs. These will be bohemian—think owls, beads, feathers, and fringe—or stylized geometric forms like zigzags or circles. Runways for spring 2015 and pre-fall lean heavily on these two decades for inspiration, so accessories should complement the clothes accordingly.
